Dear SIGACCESS member:

Welcome to the June issue of the SIGACCESS Newsletter. This issue contains three articles. The first paper by Anna Cavender and Richard Ladner gives a comprehensive review of the 2010 International Symposium on Technology and Deaf Education. The second paper by Matt Huenerfauth describes the educational outreach activity of a NSF supported project that provides research opportunities for deaf and hard-of-hearing high school and undergraduate students. The third paper by Yao-Jen Chang presents a system that aims at assisting individuals with cognitive disabilities who deviate from their normal routes.

Who we are

SIGACCESS is a special interest group of ACM. The SIGACCESS Newsletter is a regular online publication of SIGACCESS. We encourage a wide variety of contributions, such as: letters to the editor, technical papers, short reports, reviews of papers of products, abstracts, book reviews, conference reports and/or announcements, interesting web page URLs, local activity reports, etc. Actually, we solicit almost anything of interest to our readers.

Material may be reproduced from the Newsletter for non-commercial use with credit to the author and SIGACCESS. Deadlines will be announced through relevant mailing lists one month before publication dates.

We encourage submissions as word-processor files, text files, or e-mail. Postscript or PDF files may be used if layout is important. Ask the editor if in doubt.

Finally, you may publish your work here before submitting it elsewhere. We are a very informal forum for sharing ideas with others who have common interests.

Anyone interested in editing a special issue on an appropriate topic should contact the editor.
